

NEWS photo Ian Smith

STUDS of Capilano, like the one pictured above, came out in droves for the second annual Mr. Capilano contest. The event is a money raiser for a fund to go to the best retail management student at Capilano College. The contest took place in the cafeteria of the south campus and was put on by the retail management students.