

NEWS photo Terry Peters

FUNDRAISING VOLUNTEERS will be at Lonsdale Quay this weekend and next, selling raffle tickets for a new Harley Davidson. Pictured above: Helen Stevenson.

Harley raffle to aid theatre

Just 6,200 tickets issued

CAPILANO COLLEGE hopes the public will go hog wild over a fundraising campaign to equip its new performance theatre.

The college is raffling off a 1996 FLSTC Heritage Softail Classic Harley Davidson Motorcycle, valued at $23,865.

The 350-seat theatre is scheduled for completion in spring 1997. An estimated $400,000 is needed to purchase seating, spotlights, sound systems and other equipment, according to Lynn

Jest, director of resource development at Capilano College.

Of the 6,200 tickets issued, just 600 have been sold to date, said Jest. Tickets are $20 each, three for $50 or six for $100.

Tickets are available at Capilano College, Sussex Realty's North and West Vancouver offices, Coldwell Banker in Capilano Mall, Lanita's in Caulfeild Village and in Vancouver at Trev Deeley Motorcycles, the Honda Centre and Liberty Design.

— Layne Christensen