

Expect the unexpected

By RENEE DORUYTER
Music Critic

A word often used to describe saxophonist John Zorn is "enigmatic," probably because he appears to be personally shy and retiring. As a musician, however, he is easily accessible — at least he was the last two nights as part of the Sonny Clark Memorial Quartet at the Landmark.

His band, Xu Feng, appearing at Vancouver East Cultural Centre

REVIEW

tonight at 8 promises to be a totally different experience. Two guitars, two percussionists and two keyboards, and you should expect the unexpected.

Free concerts begin tonight at 6 at the B.C. Complex and continue through Sunday evening. Special treats to look for at the Plaza of Nations include Reflexionen, (7 p.m. tonight, noon tomorrow and 8 p.m. Sunday); Mr. Toad's Wild Ride (8 p.m. tonight); Vinny Golia Ensemble (7 p.m. Sunday).

At Waves, check out the Bob Murphy Quartet (7 p.m. tonight), Kenny Colman (8 p.m. tomorrow), and Philippe Lapointe (noon Sunday). At the Waterfront Stage, look for the Shuffle Demons (4 p.m. tomorrow and Sunday), Eugene Chadbourne (3 p.m.) and Lunar Adventures (7 p.m.) Sunday.