The piano you'll hear tonight is a Baldwin Grand on loan from Tom Lee Music. It has been used in scores of performances here. It's a wonderful piano and we want to keep it. The proceeds from this evening's performance will greatly enhance our piano fund. However, we need to raise a lot of money to make it permanently ours. Please have a look at our PLAY IT AGAIN brochure. Maybe you can help us out. We greatly appreciate donations of any size. You'll receive a name credit, tax receipt and chance to play the Baldwin yourself — and we'll be one step closer to giving the piano a permanent home here.

We never confuse the length of our pianos with the depth of their quality.

At first glance, the Baldwin concert grand would appear to be a more impressive instrument than our vertical piano on the right.

Yet these two fine Baldwin pianos have many things in common.

Each is engineered for exceptional durability, the result of the most advanced tooling and building methods in the industry.

Each is designed to conform to the strictest measures of sound production and touch.

And each is crafted from the most reliable, highest quality materials available.

Of course every Baldwin piano is made along these same exacting standards.

Which is why Baldwin quality is consistently superior. Piano after piano.

We couldn't put anything more into our grands. Or anything less into our verticals.

Have you noticed how grand our piano sounds?

It's a Baldwin grand piano on loan from Tom Lee Music that has been used in scores of performances here. It's even been signed by Liberace. It's a terrific piano and we want to keep it.

We need to raise a lot of money to make it permanently ours and we can't do it without you. Tom Lee Music, the artists and our renters are all helping. Will you?

Please complete the attached form and leave it at our box office or mail it in, and the piano will be one step closer to a permanent home at the Cultch.

A tax-deductible contribution in any amount would be greatly appreciated and we will acknowledge your contribution by:

- ☆ continuing to bring in great players
- ☆ letting you have a try at playing a brief piece on the Baldwin yourself, and having your picture taken while doing so
- ☆ listing your name on our "We Bought The Baldwin" plaque which will hang permanently in our lobby

Heck yes, play it again, I'll help!

Here's a few notes for the Baldwin:
